

ABSTRACT

This invention relates to a method of treating, preventing, and regressing arteriosclerosis including atherosclerosis in mammals by administering an effective amount of acetaminophen or pharmaceutically acceptable salt thereof and optionally a second active ingredient, along with compositions containing the same.

MCP267Final.doc

09887465-062201
T02290" 59428860